TALES OF THE PUNJAB TOLD BY THE PEOPLE. By FLORA ANNIE STEEL. With illustrations by J. Lockwood Kipling, C.I.E., and notes by R. C. Temple. London: Macmillan and Co., 1894.

IT is ingenious rather than ingenuous on the part of Mrs. Steel and her present publishers to issue this as if it were a new work. When it was originally published under the title of Wide-awake Stories it was reviewed in these pages; and we only mention it now to warn our readers that it is the same book with an altered preface and without the index. Some explanation is surely due from the authoress and her publishers.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS.

The Council have prepared a Catalogue of the Library, but have deferred its publication until the issue of the June number of Folk-Lore, in order to give an opportunity to those members whose works on Folklore are not yet in the Library to favour the Society with a copy of them to be included in the Catalogue.

The Council will be greatly obliged by such donations, and also by offers of other books relating to Folklore.
